Berrien/Cass Beekeepers Club to host open house

By MAXWELL HARDEN
max.harden@leaderpub.com

DOWAGIAC — A local club is hosting an event aiming to educate southwest Michigan about nature's most famous pollinator.

The Berrien & Cass County Beekeepers are hosting an Open House at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 21 for anyone interested in beekeeping. The open house will take place at the Southwestern Michigan College Dowagiac Campus in the MCC West Room, Library Building. New and experienced members are invited to attend for fellowship, refreshments, and information on how to get started.

Traditionally held in the spring, this is the first time the open house will be held in the fall.

"That is an effort to get people engaged sooner so that during the slow winter months when beekeepers are building boxes or non-beekeeping kinds of things," said Treasurer Maya Miller. "It gives them a longer runway to get started and if people are interested in starting in the spring, now is a great time to start attending meetings."

Established in 2019 by Theodore Schrader and Brad Cloutier, the Berrien/Cass Beekeepers Club is a nonprofit that merges hobby beekeepers and commercial beekeepers alike with a commitment to education as a member of the Michigan Beekeepers Association. The club is dedicated to promoting responsible beekeeping practices, fostering a supportive community of bee enthusiasts and sharing knowledge about honeybees and the vital role they play in the ecosystem.

Miller said the beekeeping season was a successful one.

"Our bees are really thriving this year," she said. "We chose not to draw a lot of honey off and keep our bees sustained through the winter. We're not really sure what this winter is gonna look like and that's something that every beekeeper has to decide on their own. Are they in it for the honey, or are they in it for the bees? That's a personal choice. We decided to let our bees reap their own harvest."

The club meets from 6 to 8:30 p.m. on the third Tuesday of every month at Southwestern Michigan College's O'Leary building (room 301) to host presentations and guest speakers to discuss bee related topics and provide education.

The club also offers services for swarms of honeybees that are out in the open. In addition, the club also hosts apiary days – typically two per month – that allow members to take a more hands-on approach to beekeeping. Monthly club meetings and apiary days are open to the public.

While a goal of the club is to recruit new beekeepers, the club is also aiming to bolster its roster of veteran beekeepers. The club plans to add courses on honey harvesting, setting up farm stands in Michigan, jar labeling and more.

Jerome Jenkins reopened the Candy Shack in September.

The Candy Shack is back

By JUSTIN FLAGEL
For Leader Publications

NILES — Those with a sweet tooth have a new option to sate their hunger with the reopening of The Candy Shack in Niles.

Though previous versions of the business existed in other locations, the newest version of the Candy Shack is now open at 931 North 5th St.

Those driving or walking by in recent weeks may have noticed a sudden increase in activity in the building, followed by the appearance of new signs, displays, and an exuberant greeter waving to passers-by.

Wide offerings of candy, starting at as little as one cent apiece, are center stage, but the new shop also offers a variety of snacks, grocery products, and even sportswear. The shop is designed like a paradise for after school kids, with slushies, nachos, jerky, snack cakes, chips, soft drinks, and more. The shop is also a convenient stop for those who need a quick refill on dish soap, hygiene products, or other household items. A shelf lined with Nikes and other shoes and a rack of clothing completes the display.

"We're trying to bring it back old school," said owner Jerome Jenkins, emphasizing the low-priced candy and the neighborhood location for those who don't drive or just want close access to such products. "It's a great positive for the community."

Jerome, who moved to Niles from South Bend, described a fondness for the peaceful, quieter way of life compared to his previous community. He recognizes Niles as a community that takes care of itself and has already received praise from customers and neighbors stopping in the shop.

The Candy Shack is already dreaming bigger, with a plan to add arcade machines to grow the after school draw and ideas for an outdoor gathering space at the back of the building, with basketball hoops and a rear-entry for easier access from the neighborhood street parking.

Jenkins also intends to be active with events for Halloween and Christmas and hopes to participate in wider community events. He plans to add tables and chairs out front for seating.

The Candy Shack is open every day from 9 a.m. until 9 p.m.

Buchanan commission talks zoning ordinance, sidewalk program

By DEBRA HAIGHT
For Leader Publications

BUCHANAN — With the $19.4 million downtown infrastructure project on the homestretch, Buchanan City Commissioners are turning their attention to other issues including a new zoning ordinance, a new sidewalk program and the sale of city-owned property.

Relative to the infrastructure project which has left downtown streets torn up for several months, City Manager Tony McGhee reported that underground utility work is done and the focus now is shifting to putting down asphalt and concrete on the streets.

McGhee told commissioners that the ribbon cutting for the downtown project has been set for Nov. 21 at 10:30 a.m. Most of the work should be done by then with only minor items left to be done over the winter and into next spring.

Commissioners held their first reading of the new zoning ordinance at the start of Monday's meeting. Clerk Kalla Langston-Weiss reported that one phone comment was received from former commissioner Scott King who urged the current commission to be cautious as they move forward with the new ordinance.

Commissioners approved the first reading of the ordinance and set a second public hearing for Nov. 10 prior to that night's meeting. Commissioner Dan Vigansky has been working on the updated ordinance as a member of the city planning commission and said he's glad to see the new ordinance in place after over three years of work.

The updated ordinance is called a "unified development code" and represents a whole new approach to zoning and development, McGhee said. The new ordinance is "form based" rather than "traditional use based" as it balances growth with preservation with an emphasis on encouraging compact, pedestrian-oriented, mixed use development.

The new sidewalk program is being rolled out this month and will target sidewalks needing repair throughout the city. Monday, commissioners approved the $56,200 bid of Astrong Construction of Niles for 3,000 square feet of new concrete sidewalk. Astrong was the only company to submit a bid.

Niles approves tree removal contract, greenlights fall events

By MAXWELL HARDEN
max.harden@leaderpub.com

NILES — Niles' trees and stumps will now be serviced by a new company.

The Niles City Council voted 6-1 to award a contract for the removal of 90 dead, dying, and dangerous trees, along with 93 stumps, to Ark Tree Services of Niles. The bid was awarded after a competitive process that saw eight bids opened on Monday, Oct. 6, with Ark Tree Services submitting the low bid of $57,642.

The trees were identified across various city properties, including street rights-of-way, parks, the cemetery, and the golf course, following a city-wide survey in September.

Hart Line had been the contracted company the previous two years. Councilmember Gretchen Bertschy was the lone dissenting vote and encouraged the council to vote no while it was recommended by Mayor Nick Shelton and others that the city give Ark Tree Service a chance because they were the lowest bidder and received good recommendations.

During the discussion regarding the tree removal contract, City Administrator Ric Huff clarified the city's past experience with the bidding contractors in response to questions from Shelton. Huff confirmed that the low bidder, Ark Tree Services, has no prior experience working for the City of Niles. The second lowest bidder, Payne, has had favorable prior experience with the city.

Huff confirmed that Hart Line also has prior favorable experience with the city. When Hart Line was initially awarded a contract two years ago, they did not have prior experience with the city but were the lowest bidder at the time, much like Ark Tree Service today.

The project is strategically scheduled during the off-season. Winter tree removal is preferred because the trees lack leaves, and the firm ground minimizes potential damage. All tree removal work must be completed by March 1. The stump removal and restoration work is scheduled for the spring to ensure grass seed will germinate with the warmer weather and spring rains. Stump removal with topsoil must be completed by March 30, and the final raking and seeding must be done no sooner than March 1 and no later than April 15.

In other business, the council moved 6-1 to approve a pair of annual fall events in Fall Fest and the Thanksgiving Day Run and Walk.

Fall fest will take place Saturday, Oct. 25 and will feature a variety of activities including:

■ Artisan Market Iron Shoe Distillery (noon)

Association takes opposing stance to ranked choice

Clerks cite delays, voter confusion in new resolution

By LAUREN RICE
Leader Publications

The Michigan Association of County Clerks voted unanimously this week to oppose a ballot measure intended to introduce ranked-choice voting to Michigan ballots.

The ballot initiative is from the organization Rank MI Vote, which is in the process of collecting enough signatures to be on the November 2026 ballot.

"Michigan's county clerks have collectively dedicated their lives to public service and the pursuit of delivering safe, secure and efficient elections for our residents," MACC President Linda Talsma said in a news release. "As an organization, we rarely take positions on ballot questions, but we felt compelled in this case to urge voters to oppose this measure."

Van Buren County Clerk Suzie Roehm said it's significant for the association to pass a resolution like this, because it doesn't happen often.

"Very, very rarely does our association either support or oppose any kind of a measure," she said. "It's a very rare thing that we do, but we as an association felt very strongly about this, which is why we felt that it was necessary for us to pass that resolution. ... I've been clerk for nine years and it's the only one I can think of, right now, that we've passed as a resolution."

The resolution highlights several concerns, including the length of the ballot; conflicts with provisions of existing state law and the state Constitution; increased voter confusion; complexity and timing of audits and recounts; as well as delays in providing election results to the public.

Cass County Clerk Register Monica McMichael said voter confusion is already a challenge. In August primary elections, she said extra ballots are ordered in preparation for people who spoil their ballots by cross-voting.

"I can tell you I've worked elections for 20 years and I'm sure it would be no surprise to most people that people in general just don't take time to read directions," she said. "And that is one of the biggest issues we have with elections now, not even adding ranked choice voting."

The other significant concern for McMichael, she said, is the "inevitable" delays in providing results after elections to accommodate additional processing involved with RCV.

"This day and age we're under constant scrutiny," she said. "I can tell you, if I have a precinct that doesn't report with the other ones, maybe there's an issue and they can't get me results until 2 a.m., everybody thinks something's going on – whether or not there is. And they immediately jump to conclusion. They want results at 8:05 (p.m.), when polls close at 8 p.m. It would take quite a while to filter through this process."

Ranked choice, also referred to as instant-runoff voting, is a different way of voting. In a ranked choice election, a voter will rank the candidates in order of preference, rather than selecting one intended winner.

The instant runoff happens if there is no candidate who wins the majority, more than 50 percent, of the votes. In that scenario, the candidate who came in last place would be eliminated from the running and those ballots then count for the voter's second choice. The process is repeated until there is a candidate with more than half of the votes.

In addition to this resolution and the ongoing effort of Rank MI Vote, there is legislation also active in the Michigan Legislature.

House Bill 4707 is intended to preemptively ban ranked choice voting, and was already approved by House Republicans. It is currently in the state Senate, awaiting action after being delegated to the Senate Committee on Elections and Ethics.

Ranked choice voting has already been implemented in several locations around the country, and banned in others.

According to BallotPedia, 17 states have banned ranked choice voting altogether since 2022. The most recent states to do so are Arkansas, Iowa, Kansas, North Dakota, West Virginia and Wyoming in 2025.

All but two of the 17 states passed their bans with a Republican trifecta in control of the state government.

Three states – Alaska, Hawaii and Maine – use ranked choice voting statewide, and 14 states are in the same position as Michigan with localities scheduling the use of RCV in advance of state action. That leaves 16 states with no laws yet addressing ranked choice voting.

Kathy Hamilton

December 24, 1949 – October 7, 2025

Kathy Ann (Krassow) Hamilton, a lifelong resident of Niles, Michigan, passed away peacefully on October 7, 2025, at the age of 75. Born on December 24, 1949, to the late Richard and Betty (Hemphill) Krassow, Kathy's warm presence and gentle spirit were a blessing to all who knew her.

Kathy's early years in Niles were filled with the love and camaraderie of her family. She was the cherished sister of Elwood (Goldie) Krassow, Craig (Pam) Krassow and David Krassow. The bond she shared with her brothers was one of mutual respect and affection, a connection that only deepened with time. Her marriage to Jake Hamilton, who preceded her in death, was a testament to enduring love and partnership.

Professionally, Kathy dedicated many years of service to Niles Precision, where her keen eye and meticulous nature earned her the role of a respected inspector. Her colleagues remember her not only for her professional acumen but for her extraordinary kindness. Kathy's willingness to lend a helping hand and offer words of encouragement left an indelible mark on the hearts of those she worked with.

Beyond her work, Kathy was known for her diverse interests and hobbies. She had a profound love for her German Shepherds, devoting countless hours to their care and training. Her passion for reading was unmatched, with a library of books that was as varied as it was extensive. Kathy also found enjoyment in sewing and she could sew anything with a precision that mirrored her professional life. Her creations were expressions of her love and thoughtfulness.

Those who knew Kathy would describe her as loving, gentle, and thoughtful. Her actions spoke volumes, and she lived a life that embodied these qualities every day. She was a listener, a confidante, and a friend who approached every situation with empathy and grace. Her nieces and nephews, as well as extended family and friends, will carry forward the wisdom and compassion she imparted.

Kathy's departure leaves a void in the community of Niles, but her legacy of love and kindness will continue to inspire those who were fortunate enough to know her. As we bid farewell to Kathy Ann (Krassow) Hamilton, we celebrate a life well-lived, full of moments that brought joy and comfort to others. Her memory will be cherished and kept alive in the stories shared and the lives she touched.

Those wishing to make a memorial donation have been asked to consider the Cass County Animal Control, 323 M62, Cassopolis, MI 49031.

As per Kathy's wishes, there will be no public services or visitation. The family kindly asks for your understanding and encourages you to remember Kathy in your hearts.

Kathy will be laid to rest in a private ceremony, surrounded by her family and the beautiful Michigan landscape she so dearly loved. As the seasons change and the years pass, we will remember Kathy not with sadness but with a smile, knowing that her spirit remains with us, guiding and encouraging us to live with the same love and gentleness she so effortlessly displayed.

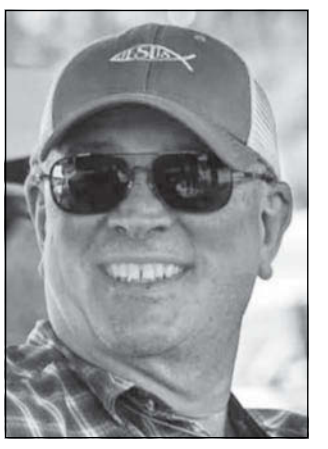
Rev. Scott Smith

March 31, 1964 – October 9, 2025



Rev. Scott Brian Smith, age 61 years of Niles, Michigan; son, father, brother, bluegrass musician, chef, and current pastor of the Portage Prairie United Methodist Church in Bertrand Township, Michigan, died peacefully on Thursday, October 9, 2025 at home in the church parsonage, unexpectedly, but of natural causes.

He was born on March 31. 1964 in South Bend, Indiana to Max Utah and Kaye Marguerite (Livings) Smith, and has lived in Niles all of his life. He was graduated from Niles High School where he had been a member of Niles' first Varsity Soccer team, and a member of Niles' last Varsity Hockey team, having reached the greatest number of goals scored by an individual player in Niles hockey history, and remains the all-time leading scorer to this day.

He continued his education at Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo, where he earned his Bachelors Degree, and at Bethel College (now University) in Mishawaka, Indiana where he earned his first Masters Degree. He was employed for many years as a chef, serving in the kitchens of the former Barkley's Restaurant in South Bend, the former Pickwick Club of Niles, and the Knollwood Country Club.

He returned to college several years later, attending the United Theological Seminary in Dayton, Ohio, earning the degree of Master of Divinity in 2013. His first pastorate was at the Weidman (Michigan) United Methodist Church, and in 2019 became the pastor of the Portage Prairie United Methodist Church, leading from behind the pulpit, and from behind the guitar, working with the congregation's worship band.

Scott was active in Niles community events, assisting in the leadership of the Niles Bluegrass Festival, and adding the Niles Jesus Fest, gathering members of many area congregations to the riverfront to sing praises, hear the Word spoken, and Baptizing new believers in the Saint Joseph River. His interest in Bluegrass music led him to learn several instruments in addition to the guitar, becoming proficient on the mandolin, the keyboard, and more recently, the pedal steel guitar.

He remained an active fan of athletics, especially the Detroit Red Wings Hockey team, but also the Chicago Cubs Baseball team, and all athletics at the University of Notre Dame. He continued to enjoy working in the kitchen, experimenting with exotic meats such as camel, and found great pleasure in mixing pot-luck meals with live bluegrass performance.

Scott was preceded in death by his father, Max U. "Mike" Smith on November 10, 1984, and by a sister, Kristine "Kris" Smith on August 30, 2014.

Surviving family includes his children, Louisianna (& Joseph) Buckhanan and Amanda (& Joshua) Wolfe, both of Niles, and Emily (& Cody) Robinson of South Bend; four grandchildren; Scott's mother, Kaye Smith of Niles; Scott's sisters, Cathie Smith and Michele Smith, both of Niles; several nieces and nephews; a wonderful circle of fellow musicians and festival friends, and his congregation at Portage Prairie.

The funeral service for Pastor Scott Smith will be at Noon on Monday, October 20, 2025 at the Portage Prairie United Methodist Church, 2450 Orange Road in Bertrand Township, with Senior Pastor Jeffrey Whittaker of the Michiana Christian Embassy in Niles officiating. Committal will follow in the church's graveyard, the Portage Prairie Cemetery.

Visitation will be on Monday, at the church, beginning at 10:00 a.m. Contributions in memory of Pastor Scott may be made to continue his ministries at the Portage Prairie United Methodist Church, 2450 Orange Road, Niles, Michigan 49120; https://www.theprairiechurch.com/. Arrangements were completed at the Halbritter-Wickens Funeral Home, 615 East Main Street in Niles. Condolences and memories may be left at:

www.halbritterwickens.com

The webpage for Portage Prairie Church includes this introduction to their pastor: "Pastor Scott is a passionate leader with a heart for both God and community. When he's not preaching the gospel, you'll likely find him enjoying the beauty of the great outdoors or strumming some instrument to some good ol' bluegrass tunes." The neck of Scott's guitar includes the scripture reference Gal 5:22, which is: "But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, forbearance, kindness, goodness, faithfulness". His introduction ends with: "Pastor Scott is committed to guiding others in faith with warmth, humor, and a whole lot of heart."

Pastor Scott fulfilled ... and has now completed ... that ministry.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

In support of LMC proposals

Dear Editor,

Law Enforcement agencies across the state have the need to send newly hired officers to a police academy. Area leaders reached out to Lake Michigan College regarding this need. The response was swift and effective. Within 10 months the College received all state approvals, purchased equipment, hired instructors, and today 27 officers who graduated from the LMC police academy are on the job in local agencies protecting and serving the residents of Southwest Michigan. The quality of the training is one of the best in Michigan.

Lake Michigan College has been serving local employers and residents for decades. Let's not take this great community resource for granted. LMC is an important asset in training, retraining, and higher education. For two straight years it has been ranked as the top community college in Michigan for affordability, student retention rate, and a student to faculty ratio of 13 to 1. Our area high school students can earn a high school diploma and an associate's degree at the same time with the innovative Early-Middle College program and can earn college credits in high school as well. It saves families thousands of dollars and helps to retain our kids and grandkids right here in Southwest Michigan.

LMC is seeking a millage renewal on the ballot in November and has reduced the capital millage request by 50 percent. I appreciate the fact the College chose to cut its' capital millage request by 50 percent. The renewal is not an increase and locks the tax rate in for 20 years and pays 20 percent of the college's operating budget.

Lake Michigan College is important to our area, and I urge you to join me and vote Yes on both proposals either by absentee ballot or on November 4th.

BEEKEEPERS

"We want to get new beekeepers, but we also are focusing this year on engaging three-to-five-year beekeepers. We want to keep people engaged after they get their hives set up. We really invest heavily on that and help new beekeepers but once people are three-year beekeepers, they're like, I've got everything I need to know here. So we're trying to add more things that engage people that have been in it more and have existing, thriving hives."

Miller added that a focus of the club will be on hive alternatives.

"There are so many different kinds of hives, you know, we start everybody with a langstroth, but there are Warre hives, top bar hives, Slovakian hive houses, there are so many different things but we've been so focused on the new beekeepers that we haven't been able to expand into that. As we're growing, we can fi nally have more committees and member engagement to do more of that."

Honey bees, both wild and domestic, play a role in the world's food supply. According to greenpeace.org, bees pollinate about 70 out of the top 100 human food crops which supply about 90 percent of the world's nutrition.

Miller encourages anyone interested in learning more about beekeeping to attend Tuesday's open house.

"We really pride ourselves on helping people to be beekeepers instead of be-havers," she said. "Getting involved early before you make that investment and learning from the people that have already done that and kind of stumbled ahead of them is the best way to learn if beekeeping is for you. There's so many ways to be an ally to beekeepers without necessarily keeping bees and we've all been there before. Our most successful beekeepers are the ones that come to the club before they have bees and learn about it absolutely. We've also helped them by just splitting our hives and giving it to them.

"We're such a homesteading community in that way where we're sharing the wealth of our own hives. It's a great way to get started rather than ordering all the supplies. There's a lot of information out there, but nothing compares to experience and we have boots on the ground."

Antioxidants help stave off a host of health problems – but figuring out how much you're getting can be tricky

By NATHANIEL JOHNSON
University of North Dakota
(The Conversation)

When it comes to describing what an antioxidant is, it's all in the name: Antioxidants counter oxidants.

And that's a good thing. Oxidants can damage the structure and function of the chemicals in your body critical to life – like the proteins and lipids within your cells, and your DNA, which stores genetic information. A special class of oxidants, free radicals, are even more reactive and dangerous.

As an assistant professor of nutrition, I've studied the long-standing research showing how the imbalances in antioxidants and oxidants lead to oxidative stress, which is linked to cancer, diabetes, cardiovascular disease and dementia and Alzheimer's disease. In fact, a primary cause of aging is the damage accumulated across of a lifetime of oxidative stress.

Simply put: To help prevent oxidative stress, people need to eat foods with antioxidants and limit their exposure to oxidants, particularly free radicals.

The research: Food, not supplements

There's no way for any of us to avoid some oxidative stress. Just metabolism – the processes in your body that keep you alive, such as breathing, digestion and maintaining body temperature – are a source of oxidants and free radicals. Inflammation, pollution and radiation are other sources.

As a result, everyone needs antioxidants. There are many different types: enzymes, minerals, vitamins and phytochemicals.

Two types of phytochemicals deserve special mention: carotenoids and flavonoids. Carotenoids are pigments, with the colors yellow, orange and red; they contain the antioxidants beta-carotene, lycopene and lutein. Some flavonoids, called anthocyanins, are pigments that give foods a blue, red or purple color.

Although your body produces some of these antioxidants, you can get them from the foods you eat, and they're better for you than supplements. In fact, researchers found that antioxidant supplements did not reduce deaths, and some supplements in excessive amounts contribute to oxidative stress, and may even increase the risk of dying.

It should be pointed out that in most of these studies, only one or two antioxidants were given, and often in amounts far greater than the recommended daily value. One study, for example, gave participants only vitamin A, and at an amount more than 60 times an adult's recommended intake.

Foods rich in antioxidants

In contrast, increased antioxidant intake from whole foods is related to decreased risk of death. And although antioxidant supplementation didn't reduce cancer rates in smokers, the antioxidants in whole foods did.

But measuring antioxidants in foods is complicated. Extensive laboratory testing is required, and too many foods exist to test them all anyway. Even individual food items that are the same exact variety of food – such as two Gala apples – can have different amounts of antioxidants. Where the food was grown and harvested, how it was processed and how it was stored during transportation and while in the supermarket are factors. The variety of the food also matters – the many different types of apples, for instance, can have different amounts of antioxidants.

Nonetheless, in 2018, researchers quantified the antioxidant content of more than 3,100 foods – the first antioxidant database. Each food's antioxidant capacity was determined by the amount of oxidants neutralized by a given amount of food. The researchers measured this capacity in millimoles per 100 grams, or about 4 ounces.

For fruits easily found in the grocery store, the database shows blueberries have the most antioxidants – just over 9 millimoles per 4 ounces. The same serving of pomegranates and blackberries each have about 6.5 millimoles.

For common vegetables, cooked artichoke has 4.54 millimoles per 4 ounces; red kale, 4.09 millimoles; cooked red cabbage, 2.15; and orange bell pepper, 1.94.

Coffee has 2.5 millimoles per 4 ounces; green tea has 1.5; whole walnuts, just over 13; whole pecans, about 9.7; and sunflower seeds, just over 5. Herbs and spices have a lot: clove has 465 millimoles per 4 ounces; rosemary has 67; and thyme, about 64. But keep in mind that those enormous numbers are based on a quarter-pound. Still, just a normal sprinkle packs a powerful nutritional punch.

Other tips

Other ways to choose antioxidant-rich foods: Read the nutrition facts label and look for antioxidant vitamins and minerals – vitamins A, C, E, D, B2, B3 and B9, and the minerals selenium, zinc and manganese.

Just know the label has a drawback. Food producers and manufacturers are not required to list every nutrient of the food on the label. In fact, the only vitamins and minerals required by law are sodium, potassium, calcium, iron and vitamin D.

Also, focus on eating the rainbow. Colorful foods are often higher in antioxidants, like blue corn. Many darker foods are rich in antioxidants, too, like dark chocolate, black barley and dark leafy vegetables, such as kale and Swiss chard.

Although heat can degrade oxidants, that mostly occurs during the storage and transportation of the food. In some cases, cooking may increase the food's antioxidant capacity, as with leafy green vegetables.

Keep in mind that while blueberries, red kale and pecans are great, their antioxidant profile will be different than that of other fruits, vegetables and nuts. That's why diversity is the key: To increase the power of antioxidants, choose a variety of fresh, flavorful, colorful and, ideally, local foods.

Buchanan man gets prison time on drunk driving charges

By DEBRA HAIGHT
For Leader Publications

NILES — Two area residents were sentenced to prison on Monday in Berrien County Trial Court at the Niles courthouse.

Benjamin Lee Freeman, 48, of Berrien Springs, pleaded guilty to criminal sexual conduct-assault with intent to commit penetration and attempted third-degree criminal sexual conduct and was sentenced to concurrent terms of 76 months to 120 months and 38 months to 60 months in prison.

He has credit for 59 days served and must pay $326 in fines and costs. He must register as a sex offender.

The incident occurred in April, 2013 in the Berrien Springs area against a minor child but was not reported to police until July, 2024.

FREEMAN

Berrien County Assistant Prosecutor Myrene Koch said Freeman's actions have had a negative and traumatic effect on the victim that will ripple through their life. Koch said the victim has moved out of the state and has had to deal with a lot of anxiety.

Defense attorney James Champion said Freeman is a different man than the person who committed these crimes after finding the Lord and working for an area church. Champion said Freeman has a lot of community support from his church and others in the community.

Freeman said he was very sorry about what happened and knows that his actions have consequences.

Berrien County Trial Court Judge Gordon Hosbein said that he found the sentencing guidelines to be appropriate and additionally that it was appropriate to sentence Freeman at the top end of the guidelines. "There is no excuse for these actions," he said.

Rodney Allen Stuart, 48, of Buchanan, pleaded guilty to third offense drunk driving and was sentenced to 18 months to five years in prison with credit for 60 days already served. His license was revoked and he must pay $1,558 in fines and costs.

The incident occurred March 16 in Buchanan. His blood alcohol level was found to be .157, nearly twice the legal limit and he also had THC in his blood.

Koch noted that this was Stuart's 6th drunk driving conviction and that he has a total of eight felony and 14 misdemeanor convictions with at least 12 probation sentences.

Other area residents received jail and probation terms.

LOPEZ-RUIZ

Gregory William Davis, 32, of Niles, pleaded guilty to larceny in a building and was sentenced to 90 days in jail with credit for 67 days served. He must pay $198 in fines and costs.

The incident occurred Aug. 7 in Niles.

Robert Randall Holcomb, Jr., 39, of Buchanan, pleaded guilty to stealing/retaining a financial transaction device without consent and was sentenced to 120 DAYS in jail with credit for 65 days served. He must pay $698 in fines, costs and restitution.

The incident occurred Oct. 9, 2023 in Buchanan.

Enrique Lopez-Ruiz, 22, of Berrien Springs, pleaded guilty to assault with a dangerous weapon and was sentenced to nine months in jail with credit for 74 days served and $258 in fines and costs.

The incident occurred July 28 in Berrien Springs and involved throwing bleach on a woman.

He also had his probation revoked and was sentenced to 365 days in jail with credit for 73 days served from a previous aggravated assault conviction against the same woman.

Judge Hosbein said his primary goal was to protect the victim and ordered him to have no contact with her. Lopez-Ruiz is from Guatemala and is believed to be in the country illegally.

An Ohio youth was sentenced to probation for an incident at Red Bud Track and Trail in July.

Ian William Crisenberry, 20, of Ohio, pleaded guilty to malicious destruction of personal property $1,000 to $20,000 and was sentenced under the Holmes Youthful Training Act to 18 months probation, credit for one day served, 180 hours of community service and $598 in fines and costs.

The incident occurred July 6 in Buchanan Township when he threw a mortar into a porta-potty at Red Bud Trail and Trail. The conviction will not go on his record if he is successful on probation.

Marcellus man gets prison time for stealing walnut tree

By DEBRA HAIGHT
For Leader Publications

CASSOPOLIS — A Marcellus man who stole a walnut tree earlier this year in Pokagon Township was sentenced to prison Friday in Cass County Circuit Court.

Trevor Michael Wallace, 36, of Marcellus, pleaded guilty to concealing stolen property over $1,000 but less than $20,000 as a habitual offender in August and was sentenced Friday to 38 months to five years in prison. He has no credit for time served as he is on parole. He must pay $3,548 in fines, costs and restitution.

The incident occurred Dec. 21, 2024 at a property on Old Mill Road in Pokagon Township. Wallace and others cut down a fully mature hardwood walnut tree and Wallace later tried to sell the lumber to an area mill.

WALLACE

The property owner, Jesse Bement, spoke before the sentencing about the legacy left by his grandfather who established the farm after he came back from World War II. Bement said his grandfather planted trees to promote soil conservation, to provide shade for the animals on the farm and to also be a future source of income if they were ever cut.

"In my heart, it hurts me that his foresight and preplanning were seen as a payday for someone who wanted to take the benefit without putting in the work," he said.

Bement said the incident has also made his children feel unsafe in their home as they worry about people going by and stealing more trees. He did thank his neighbors and other community members who have offered their support after the theft.

"When the case was initially brought, people thought it was just a tree but it's obviously more to it than that," Assistant Prosecutor Jason Ronning said. "It's becoming a new way for people to make money as they cut down trees and sell them at lumber mills. There's no licensing or registration for trees."

Ronning noted that Wallace has eight previous felony convictions and 14 misdemeanor convictions. He said Wallace was arrested Thursday for meth possession and for turning in a lawnmower that didn't belong to him at a recycling center.

"It's important to send the message to farmers and any other property owner that this type of offense is taken seriously," Ronning added.

Defense attorney Greg Feldman said that he was skeptical about the restitution of $2,000 for the tree and was also concerned that Wallace is the only one being charged when several other individuals were involved. Feldman pointed out that Wallace has served five months in jail and received no credit for that time since he is on parole.

FEE

WEAKLEY

HOLDEN

Three other area residents were also sentenced Friday.

Terry Elizabeth Fee, 64, of Vandalia, pleaded guilty to possession of methamphetamine and was sentenced to 18 months probation, credit for 34 days served and $548 in fines and costs. The charge will be reduced to a misdemeanor if she's successful on probation.

The incident occurred June 18 in Vandalia.

"I don't know what you want out of your life but you're not going to get there with meth," Judge Herman said. "The only place it will get you is jail if it doesn't kill you first. I hope you take this opportunity and address your issues."

Travell Maurice Weakley, 35, of Dowagiac, pleaded guilty to third offense domestic violence, fleeing and eluding police and resisting and obstructing police and was sentenced to 365 days in jail with credit for 301 days served and $2,814 in fines and costs.

The incidents occurred Sept. 17, 2024 in Dowagiac for the domestic violence incident and Dec. 14, 2024 in Howard Township for the other incident. Weakley also has a pending domestic violence case in Berrien County.

Chad Holden, Jr., 18, of Elkhart, pleaded guilty to attempted resisting and obstructing police and was sentenced to credit for six days served and $1,475 in fines and costs.

The incident occurred July 3 in Ontwa Township near Edwardsburg.

Berrien court sets January trial for fatal DWI case

Niles homicide case set for December

By DEBRA HAIGHT
For Leader Publications

NILES — The trial for a Buchanan man accused of driving drunk and killing a Berrien County Road Department worker in July, 2022 in Oronoko Township has been delayed from early December until late January, 2026.

The trial for Taylor Ryan Johnson is set to start Jan.28 with a status conference set for Jan. 14. The trial had previously been scheduled to start Dec. 3. Johnson was in court Wednesday for a case conference.

JOHNSON

Johnson, 37, of Buchanan, faces a charge of driving while intoxicated causing the death of Berrien County Road Department worker William "Mack" Isom on July 20, 2022. If convicted, he faces a maximum penalty of 15 years in prison and a fine of up to $10,000.

The July 20, 2022 incident occurred on Red Bud Trail in Oronoko Township and took the life of Isom who was trimming tree branches in the roadway. The preliminary breathalyzer test (PBT) administered after the accident showed Johnson with a blood alcohol level of over .19 which is more than twice the legal limit.

The case has been delayed a number of times since the 2022 incident with Johnson's attorneys appealing trial court decisions to the Michigan Court of Appeals and Michigan Supreme Court. The most recent set back at the COA came in early June when Johnson's appeal regarding the suppression of evidence was denied.

Wednesday, Berrien County Trial Court Judge Gordon Hosbein told Johnson's attorney, Jessica LaFond, that he would delay the trial one last time to accommodate an expert witness for the defense but that it would be the last delay.

LaFond said Wednesday that Daniel Billington, an accident reconstruction expert witness she plans to call, would not be available to testify if the trial was held starting Dec. 3.

"Jan. 28 is the date certain for the trial regardless of whether your expert is ready or not," Judge Hosbein told LaFond. "I find that to be reasonable. We are no longer going to wait for his availability."

Judge Hosbein also asked the prosecution to be ready. Assistant Prosecutor Jerry Vigansky has been handling the case but is retiring at the end of the year. The judge told Vigansky to have the case prepared and ready to turn over to someone else to try the case.

A case conference was also held in another high-profile case. Rease Pence is accused in the 2022 homicide at a Niles apartment complex.

Pence was not in court Wednesday but his attorney, Carri Briseno said she is still going through what she called a "significant amount" of discovery materials in the case. A status conference is set for Nov. 17 and a trial for Dec. 3.

PENCE

Pence, now 20, formerly of Dowagiac and Niles, remains in the Berrien County Jail on $2 million bond. Pence faces four counts in this case: one count each of open murder, carrying a concealed weapon, receiving, concealing or possession of a stolen vehicle and the use of a firearm in the commission of a felony.

The incident occurred May 12, 2022 at the Arbor Trails apartment complex on the city's north side. Court records indicated that a 14 year old juvenile, Gavin Blankenship, was shot in the incident and later died from his injuries. Pence was identified as a person of interest in the investigation.

He faces a maximum of life in prison if convicted of murder, five years on the weapon and stolen vehicle charges and a consecutive two year term for the felony firearm.

Pence was brought back to Berrien County earlier this summer from Indiana where he is serving a 120 year prison term. He was convicted after the Niles incident of the 2022 murders of two Niles women in northern St. Joseph County just south of the state line.

Pence is also facing additional charges from the time he has been in the Berrien County Jail. He has been arraigned on four counts of resisting and obstructing police and one count of assault of a prison employee from Sept. 15 and Sept. 19 incidents at the jail.

Brandywine to move forward with Merritt gym, CTE center projects

By DEBRA HAIGHT
For Leader Publications

NILES CHARTER TOWNSHIP — Work is moving forward on two more of the projects being funded by the $22 million bond issue approved by Brandywine school district voters in 2024.

Brandywine Board of Education members voted to accept bids for the gymnasium addition at Merritt Elementary School as well as the new Career Technical Education center at the Middle/High School. Work on those two projects is expected to start next spring at the earliest.

Superintendent Travis Walker said the Merritt bid came in at around $1.5 million with work in a number of categories with different contractors. The CTE bid was just for the pre-engineered metal building with Pioneer Construction the winning bidder with a bid of $1.566 million.

Walker said that while the actual work won't start until the spring/summer period, the district wanted to secure contractors now and start getting materials so there are no delays when construction begins.

He said that while the bids may have been slightly higher than they anticipated, they were fairly close to what had been expected. He said the main difference came from what officials know now versus the knowledge they had during the pre-bond work.

A couple of bond projects have already completed, including securing entrances at three district school buildings and resurfacing the high school track.

As district officials noted at the time the bond issue passed in May, 2024, projects are being done in phases over three years and not all at once. One of the big projects still to be bid out is the construction of a new performing arts center at the high school.

At Monday's board meeting, Walker, board members and Christman Construction representative Todd Champion discussed the details of the CTE and Merritt bids accepted during Monday's meeting and what that could mean for the other projects still left to do.

Board secretary Holly Pomranka was the first to ask about the bids for the two projects being overbudget. She noted that the CTE center, the Merritt addition and the performing arts center were the main projects people wanted to see happen with the bond issue. "How are we going to make sure we do an adequate job on these buildings," she asked.

Walker said that he thinks there are ways to bring down the budget for the CTE building and save some money. Champion added that the bid being approved Monday was for the main structure only and that design work for the rest of the building isn't completed yet.

Walker agreed with Pomranka that the CTE, Merritt and performing arts center are the three most important bond projects and he will make sure those three are done properly even if money has to be drawn away from other bond projects such as parking lot work. He noted that they also want to have the funds needed to repurpose the current CTE space.

In other business at Monday's meeting, Walker reported on current and upcoming events. He said that October is National Principals Month and that Oct. 2 was Custodians Day. He said district officials are still working on and gathering information on the "Portrait of the Graduate" project and will report back to the board in January.

He reminded board members that the district's annual Veterans Day program will be Nov. 11 at 9:30 a.m. at the Brandywine Athletic Community Center at Brandywine High School.

McGhee said the city had budgeted $60,000 in the current budget for the sidewalk work. He said the city's public works department has identified deteriorated sidewalks that need to be replaced and will share the costs 50-50 with homeowners. Homeowners will have three years to repay their share of the costs.

He said that letters are being sent out this month to homeowners and the sidewalk work will be done on a first come first serve basis. The contractor has until next May to get the work done.

Commissioners also approved a public hearing for Nov. 10 concerning the sale of 13 city-owned properties. McGhee said he and commissioners have been talking about selling these properties for the last few months and that he has received calls from developers interested in buying some of the lots available.

The city-owned properties are mainly on the city's north side and are primarily lots gained through tax sales. Available properties are on Arctic, Bluff, Elizabeth, Fulton, Victory and West Roe Streets. All but West Roe are on the city's north side.

A third public hearing will be held at the Nov. 10 meeting. Commissioners set a public hearing on a proposed change to the ordinance governing city filing deadlines. Langston-Weiss said the change would restore the filing deadline back to the 15th Tuesday prior to the August election rather than the 15th Tuesday before the November election.

One last item approved Monday was the renewal of the retail marijuana permit for KISA Enterprises doing business as Pinnacle Emporium at 221 E. Front St.

KISA representative Doug Huntsinger confirmed that his company is disinvesting from their Michigan holdings but wants to keep the license active as they look for another entity to take over the local store.

EDWARDSBURG HIGH CELEBRATES HOMECOMING WITH PARADE

Before the Eddies took the football field last Friday, Edwardsburg decided to celebrate homecoming in style. Colorful floats rolled through town as Edwardsburg High School hosted its annual homecoming parade. The Eddies football team defeated Three Rivers 27-0.

Edwardsburg's Brayden Fischer heads the ball over St. Joseph's Mitch Culver and Evan Searles during Thursday night's district championship in Vicksburg.

Fischer's fantastic finish

Late goal lifts Edwardsburg over St. Joseph for district title

By BEN SANDERS
For Leader Publications

VICKSBURG — Edwardsburg's Brayden Fischer was right on time with another game-winning goal.

Fischer scored with 2:38 left to give the Eddies a 2-1 win over St. Joseph in Thursday's Division 2 boys soccer district championship game. Edwardsburg defeated Lakeshore 2-1 in Tuesday's semifinals, also on a goal by Fischer with 2:38 left.

"It's so exciting, everyone's so pumped," Fischer said. "You wait the whole game to do that, and it's just awesome."

Edwardsburg (16-1-1) advances to play Plainwell at 5 p.m. Tuesday in the regional semifinals at Portage Central.

Maverick Gates scored Edwardsburg's first goal in the 23rd minute, and that lead held up for almost the entire game. St. Joseph (15-3-2) spent much of the second half on the attack, and finally broke through on a shot by Remy Kelm with just 4:50 left on the clock.

"Our culture is to never say die, always keep fighting," Edwardsburg coach Sean Jesse said. "They just have that mentality. It was incredibly stressful the last five minutes. This team is resilient, they find ways to win, they find ways to put themselves in great spots."

Edwardsburg responded with a through ball from Gates that put Fischer one-on-one with the goalkeeper, and he finished to put the Eddies back up for good.

"I was running down the middle, and I remember seeing Mav play a ball over my head," Fischer said. "My back was to the goal, and I turned, and I saw no one was there, so I just started running really fast. I just shot it, and it was crazy."

St. Joseph's last-ditch efforts to equalize were unsuccessful, and Edwardsburg claimed its second district title in three years.

"We got the goal, and then just got a little too crazy, and it happened," St. Joseph coach John Brown said. "That's part of the game, that's playoff soccer. I thought Edwardsburg did a phenomenal job. They worked extremely hard. They wanted it really, really bad."

Dowagiac runs past Buchanan

By MAXWELL HARDEN
max.harden@leaderpub.com

BUCHANAN — For the first time in 13 years, the Dowagiac Chieftains are conference champions.

The Chieftains defeated the Buchanan Bucks 40-26 at Memorial Field Friday, Oct. 17 to clinch a share of the Lakeland Conference title with Buchanan. The victory, fueled by Dowagiac's speed and physicality, creates a potential three-way tie for the title. Berrien Springs, who split games with Dowagiac and Buchanan earlier this season, can join them as co-champs with a win next week against Brandywine.

"It's our brand of football," said Dowagiac Head Coach Duane Davis. "When somebody wants to play our brand against us, I just hope we're better at it and hope we can come out on top. Our guys took the game plan and went with it all week, and our game plan was to come out and be fast and physical. That's what we do, that's our brand, and that's what we're going to keep doing."

Maxwell Harden / Leader Publications

The Chieftains defeated the Buchanan Bucks 40-26 at Memorial Field on Friday night to clinch a share of the Lakeland Conference title with Buchanan.

The loss is Buchanan's second straight after losing 35-8 to Millington last week. Like last week, the Bucks' defense struggled against a physical run team. The Chieftains out-gained Buchanan 421-252 in total yards, including a 351-90 edge on the ground.

"We played hard to the end," said Buchanan Coach Mark Frey. "We've missed too many tackles, and a lot of those led to big plays. We'd get them into third and long and such and you miss tackles and they run a long way. You gotta be proud that we fought hard. Now you gotta share the conference title, which is unfortunate, but it is what it is."

Buchanan initially took the lead in the first quarter with an 11-yard touchdown run by Max Cornelius to make the score 6-0 after a failed two-point conversion. Dowagiac then responded with a 32-yard run by Quentin Hill but the extra point was blocked, tying the game at 6-6. Dowagiac closed out the first quarter scoring with a short touchdown run by Cameron White and a successful extra point from Johannah McDonald to give the Chieftains a 13-6 lead.

Dowagiac stretched its lead in the second quarter when Quentin Hill scored his second touchdown of the night on a 17-yard run, moving the score to 20-6. Buchanan kept the pressure on when Brody Reed hauled in a 44-yard touchdown pass from junior Cy Carlin, though the two-point conversion was unsuccessful, to make the score 20-12.

The Chieftains answered right before halftime with a touchdown run by Devin Rock, and the successful extra point gave the team a 27-12 lead heading into the break.

"I think we did great," Hill said. "We came out in the first half, did a great job on defense and offense. I love how the coaches trusted me in this game. They put the ball in my hand quite a bit. I always got to give credit to my line no matter what, they did their job."

After a scoreless third quarter, Buchanan made it a one-possession game in the fourth after blocking a punt, leading to an 11-yard touchdown catch by Reed from Carlin. The successful two-point conversion cut Dowagiac's lead to 27-20 with 7:15 remaining. When the Chieftains needed a play, they turned to Hill, who sealed the win for Dowagiac with his third touchdown of the night, a 52-yard run (extra point no good) that pushed the score to 33-20. On the next Dowagiac possession, Skyler Vincek connected with Devin Rock for a 40-yard touchdown pass, extending the lead to 40-20.

"The mentality was, as always, 'We're good, we're good,'" Hill said. "We always come back with the same mentality no matter what. Even if we're down, we know what's going to happen, we'll come back."

The Bucks scored the game's final points on a 6-yard pass from Carlin to Reed (conversion failed), resulting in the 40-26 final score.

"They just got a really good interior," Frey said. "I think we could do most of what we did. We drove it right down on the first series and just couldn't emulate that over and over. So once we were able to throw it a little bit and get on pace there, we were good, but again, it's too little too late."

Carlin completed 14 of 18 passes for 159 yards and three touchdown passes to Reed, who caught seven passes for 91 yards. Cornelius had 15 carries for 68 yards and one touchdown.

On defense, Reed and Ryan Hickok led the defense with six tackles each.

"He did a good job," Frey said of Carlin. "I think he missed a couple things, but that comes with being new and he's only gonna get better from here, so we're proud of him.

Davis credited his senior class, who have been with him since the seventh grade and helped transform the program.

"That group has been with me since they were seventh graders when I first got the job," Davis said. "They were right there with me in the weight room, not giving up and continuing to grind. They saw the bad right at the beginning, and they were like, 'coach, we're going to help. We're going to keep coming' and they did. They put time in the weight room and this is what happens."

The Bucks aim to regroup from their second straight loss and get back on track next week against Benton Harbor. Frey said the team will do whatever it takes to turn things around.

Buchanan soccer falls to Berrien

By MAXWELL HARDEN
max.harden@leaderpub.com

WATERVLIET — For one half, the Buchanan boys soccer team looked primed for a Division 3 district upset of Lakeland Conference champion Berrien Springs.

Unfortunately, the Shamrocks had other ideas in the final 40 minutes of play.

Berrien Springs scored five unanswered goals to defeat Buchanan 5-1 and advance to Friday's Division 3 district championship match against Hartford at Watervliet.

Berrien Springs' Caiden Ward tallied three goals while Majesty Dube and Miles Mathews added goals of their own. Senior Ben Bosse scored in the second half for Buchanan's lone goal.

"It's just tough," said Buchanan Coach Ryan Haines. "They're just so fast. It's hard to coach speed, and they have a game plan and they execute very well. Every single time they get the ball, we just really tried our best to just stop everything they could do and to get it away from [Ward]. He played a heck of a game and we just tried our best to just keep the ball away from them, but when someone's as incredibly quick as he is, it's tough. "It's a tough loss but we'll use it as motivation to just move forward."

Tied 0-0 in the closing minutes of the first half, Ward beat Buchanan goalkeeper Charlie Cowart to take a 1-0 lead into halftime. In the opening minutes of the second half, Ward found the back of the net again to take a 2-0 lead with 38:13 remaining. Dube and Mathews would add goals of their own to make it a 4-0 game before Ward scored his third and final goal to give the Shamrocks a 5-0 lead with 6:47 remaining in the game.

SMC women's wrestling coach shooting for the moon

By JOHN EBY
Southwestern Michigan College

DOWAGIAC — Ashley Courtney, Southwestern Michigan College's first women's wrestling coach, comes from a prominent central Kentucky wrestling family.

Her father introduced her to the sport at 7. Her second-oldest brother, Harrison, a four-time state champion, coaches the mat men at their Woodford County High School, which has won 13 state championships, celebrating more than any other Kentucky High School Athletic Association (KHSAA) school with 61 individual champions.

Courtney wrestled for four years at a National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) school, the University of the Cumberlands in Williamsburg, Ky., home of the Patriots and mascot Patriot Pete – not to be confused with the Cumberland University Phoenix east of Nashville in Tennessee.

The Cumberland Gap is a pass through the long ridge of the Cumberland Mountains, within the Appalachian Mountains and near the tripoint of Kentucky, Virginia and Tennessee.

Courtney, who served as team captain for two years, graduated cum laude in May with degrees in biology and communication arts intending to pursue environmental journalism. "Stuff like National Geographic. You plan for one thing, then life spins you in a different direction," said Courtney, who wrote for the school newspaper in high school.

Wrestling on the boys varsity, she was a KHSAA boys state qualifier.

"I wouldn't call myself a pioneer," she said, "but when I was younger, I was often the only girl at a tournament. I wrestled at 106 pounds, the lightest weight class, and wrestled mostly boys, although my sophomore and junior years, women's wrestling kind of started to take off.

"I wasn't the first girl to make it to the boys state tournament. There was one girl before me, Priscilla. I've met her."

Campbell County's Priscilla Brownfield competed in the Kentucky state wrestling tournament in the 103-pound class in 2006, according to the Cincinnati Enquirer.

"My dad wrestled and has been a coach going on 40 years," Courtney said. "Two out of three of my older brothers wrestled. It was just natural to think this is what I'm going to end up doing because it was what I was around all the time. I grew up at wrestling tournaments. My younger sister was the stat girl, like the manager of the team."

Her hometown, Versailles, the county seat of Woodford County, sits 13 miles west of Lexington and has a population of about 10,000. Her grandfather farmed tobacco.

"It's spelled the same as the palace (near Paris, France), but it's pronounced like 'sales.' "

Truth be told, she's more nervous about enduring a Michigan winter than the upcoming inaugural women's wrestling season.

"I've crocheted myself a couple hats and a couple scarves," she smiled. "I'm on to mittens next. I've got to get myself a good pair of snow boots because the Farmer's Almanac said this is supposed to be a bad winter."

Notre Dame shuts down NC State 36-7

By SCOTT HASSINGER
For Leader Publications

SOUTH BEND, Ind. — A big second-half performance from Notre Dame's defense powered the No. 16-ranked Irish football team to a convincing 36-7 win Saturday over visiting North Carolina State.

It's the fourth straight victory for Marcus Freeman's Irish following two season-opening losses to Miami, Fla. and Texas A&M. The loss drops unranked North Carolina State to 4-3 overall.

"It's obviously good to get up here in front of you after a victory. I'm proud of the way our guys prepared. It wasn't perfect, but I probably say that every time I'm up here in front of you," said Freeman during his post-game press conference afterwards.

"But we can enjoy this win while still knowing we didn't play our best game. There are plays and situations we have to clean up. We'll look at it and address it in practice and we get another opportunity in seven days to get back out there and compete."

Jeremiah Love's two-yard TD run with 9:49 to go in the opening period gave the Irish a 7-0 lead at the end of the stanza. The Irish' senior place-kicker Noah Burnette, a native of Raleigh, N.C., returned from injury to boot the first of three PATs.

The Irish came up empty on another scoring bid with 3:15 left in the period. Notre Dame freshman quarterback C.J. Carr was sacked on fourth-down and one at the Wolfpack six-yard line.

Carr addressed that situation following the game and how the Irish plan to iron out those kind of kinks.

"It's just more repetition in practice and continuing to be more detailed on redzone stuff. I thought they (North Carolina State) played it well. We hurt ourselves with some penalties, but we'll get it corrected and fixed," Carr said.

North Carolina State tied the contest at 7-7 on CJ Bailey's 45-yard TD toss to sophomore wide receiver Terrell Jackson with 13:58 left in the second quarter. Kanoah Vinesett added the PAT.

Burnette's 48-yard fi eld goal with 0:23 left in the half sent Notre Dame into the locker room with a 10-7 lead.

Sophomore K.K. Smith hauled in a 18-yard TD strike from Carr with 6:58 left in the third quarter, extending the Irish lead to 17-7 after Burnette's PAT.

A short time later, Carr delivered a 12-yard TD strike into the hands of senior Will Pauling with 2:46 left in the stanza and Burnette's PAT boosted Notre Dame's lead to 24-7 entering the fourth.

Burnette booted a 34-yard field goal with 12:48 left in the game that provided the Irish with a 27-7 advantage.

Notre Dame's defense pinned the Wolfpack's offensive unit inside its own fi ve-yard line to record a safety that made it 29-7 in favor of the Irish with 9:37 left.

Love's one-yard scoring plunge and PAT by freshman kicker Erik Schmidt with 5:13 left capped off a 10-play 82-yard Irish scoring drive.

Notre Dame's offense outgained North Carolina State 485-233, including a 342-182 edge in the air.

Carr completed 19-of-31 passes for 342 yards and two TDs. His top two targets on the day were senior tight end Eli Raridon with seven receptions worth 109 yards and Pauling caught four passes for 105 yards and one TD. Smith had three receptions for 59 yards and one TD.

"With all the work we put on our running game, it's great to see the rewards pay off with all of our tight ends. Eli, K.K. and Will are guys we can trust and go to consistently to make plays and they did that all day," Carr said.

Love ran 18 times for 86 of the 143 rushing yards that the Irish totaled in the contest.

The Irish defense came away with three interceptions on the afternoon, including two big swipes in the fourth quarter by sophomores safety Adon Schuler and Karson Hobbs in the secondary. Sophomore Kyngstonn Viliamu-Asa also had an interception.

Nick Shelton / For Leader Publications
The Notre Dame football team defeated NC State 36-7 Oct. 11.

Freshman safety Tae Johnson and Drayk Bowen paced Notre Dame's contain unit with seven tackles apiece, while Viliamu-Asa added six and Jaiden Ausberry and Boubacar Traore contributed four each. Traore also registered a pair of sacks. Schuler was named Irish Player of the Game.

"I was really proud of – listen, it was good in all three phases of the game. It was great to get Noah back. Our defense had two or three turnovers – I think three turnovers and a safety. We played lights out in the second half and a majority of the game," Freeman said.

"Offensively there's some bad, but there's some really good. We've got to clean up the bad and what the cause of the bad was and then we'll continue to get back to work and be better."

The Irish defense has now held opponents to just one score in eight of the last 10 quarters.

Bailey finished the day completing 17-of-30 passes for 186 yards with three interceptions. Anderson emerged as the Wolfpack's top receiver with three catches for 57 yards and one TD.

Notre Dame remains at home on Saturday to face USC at 7:30 p.m.

Eddies headed to D2 district soccer finals

By SCOTT HASSINGER
For Leader Publications

VICKSBURG — Brayden Fischer's game-winning goal with 2:38 left in the second half lifted the Edwardsburg boys' soccer team to a thrilling 2-1 Division 2 district semifinal win over Stevensville-Lakeshore Tuesday in Vicksburg.

No. 6-ranked Edwardsburg (15-1-1) advances to Thursday's district championship match at 7 p.m. against state-ranked St. Joseph (15-2-2).

St. Joseph beat Coldwater 3-2 in a shootout in Tuesday's second semifinal match.

"Brayden has had a great season for us. He's one of our leading goal scorers. He just has a nose for the goal with good pace on the ball. Tonight he just found one on his feet at the right time and he buried it," said Edwardsburg head coach Sean Jesse.

Fischer, a junior, also scored the Eddies' first goal of the match at the 36:52 mark of the first half off an assist from senior Mobias Stubblefield. That goal stood and sent the Eddies into intermission with a 1-0 advantage.

"Scoring that early in the match is always a challenge and sometimes it can hurt you. I thought Lakeshore was real gritty today and put us out of position alot of times. We wanted to actually play real position soccer and they were physical enough to get us away from that several times," Jesse said. "But after they (Lancers) scored that goal, our kids got a determined look on their faces. I think those last 20 minute, especially the final 10 our kids were really chomping at the bit trying to get another goal. In the playoffs I think it just comes down to who wants it the most. There's no doubt about it, this is a really difficult district with several ranked teams."

Scott Hassinger / For Leader Publications
Edwardsburg senior Maverick Gates (6) controls the ball and glides past a Stevensville-Lakeshore defender towards the goal.

Lakeshore (10-6-1) tied the score at 1-1 on Blake Fichtner's penalty-kick goal with 28:35 left in the match.

Knowing Lakeshore had a ton of talent in its center-midfield, Jesse challenged his midfielders to rise to the occasion and those players did exactly that.

"Landon Goetz, Riley Szalai and Alecksandr Rodriguez all al stepped up their game in that spot for us," Jesse said.

Out of the 12 goals Edwardsburg has given up this season, four of those have been on penalty kicks.

"Give credit to our back-line. They are strong and don't backdown from anyone. They all read the game well and play very good soccer," Jesse said.

Jesse also singled out the play of his starting senior center-middle back Austin Leak.

"Austin played a real strong matdh for us tonight as well," Jesse said.

Experience has been a critical factor in Edwardsburg's success this season.

"Last year we only had five seniors and we had several freshmen who were starters as well. Now those freshmen are sophomores and they are holding their own. Our senior class decided this year to set a culture through the hard work that we've put in since last winter," Jesse said.

Edwardsburg returns to the district championship match for the first time since the 2023 season. The Eddies recorded 15 shots on goal to eight attempts for the Lancers.

Edwardsburg had five corner kicks to one for Lakeshore. Sophomore goal keeper Law Gates had six saves for Edwardsburg.

Edwardsburg downs Vicksburg in four sets

By MAXWELL HARDEN
max.harden@leaderpub.com

VICKSBURG — The Edwardsburg volleyball team defeated Vicksburg in a tough four-set match on Thursday, winning 25-20, 25-27, 25-19, 25-23.

The victory keeps the Eddies perfect in the Wolverine Conference with a 6-0 record and improves their overall season record to 26-8.

Sarah Pippin led the offense with 26 kills and contributed 9 digs. Ella Laskowski added 16 kills, 7 digs, 2 blocks, and 1 ace. Mya Eberlein was a force at the net, tallying 6 kills and 4 blocks.

Rylie Rosenkrantz directed the offense with a match-high 55 assists. Rosenkrantz also chipped in 8 digs, 2 blocks, and 1 ace. Defensively, Sophie Kuntz led the back row with 14 digs and recorded 1 ace.

BUCHANAN

The Bucks continued to battle, with senior Ben Bosse scoring his final goal in a Buchanan uniform with four minutes remaining to make it a 5-1 game.

Buchanan finished the season with a 12-7-2 record, earning back-to-back 10-plus win seasons for the first time in 15 years. Haines praised seniors Jacob Kuntz, Ben Bosse, Preston Payne, Caiden Troup, Hunter Harrington and Luis Novis for their efforts in rebuilding the soccer program.

"Their freshman and sophomore years, it was a little rough. It's a totally different program now," he said. ""We came in and we tried to just fl ip the script and they did a great job adjusting to a different type of play style. We're very proud of how they helped us establish that and helped us continue to push it forward."

While losing this senior class will be tough, the Bucks will return one of the conference's top players in Easton May as well as a large group of sophomores who will be juniors next year.

"Easton May is going to be a big big person for us," Haines said. "He had 21 goals and 13 assists to finish off his junior year. He's going to be a big key player for us next year. We've got a good group of nine sophomores as well. We're losing some heavy hitters, we're losing Preston Payne, Jacob Kuntz, Hunter Harrington – those three have been with the program all four years, so we're losing some guys in important spots, but we have enough guys coming up. We can still continue to push through."

FINISH

St. Joseph defeated Edwardsburg 2-0 in the regular-season opener for both teams, which remains the Eddies' only loss.

"I don't think either team is close to the same as we were then," Jesse said. "We circled that, we knew St. Joe was incredibly good, we kind of figured we'd face them in the district championship. We wanted that revenge, we wanted that moment to get it back to show how good we really are, and we made it."

Edwardsburg was the district's top seed and had a first-round bye. St. Joseph defeated Vicksburg in its opener, then had to go all the way to a penalty shootout to beat Coldwater in Tuesday's semifinal.

"We looked tired, wore out," Brown said. "That's the difference of not getting the one seed and having to go through Coldwater to get here. We tried to recover (Wednesday), and it's just unfortunate. The guys gave everything they possibly could, but it was not our A-game. The guys grinded, I could not have asked for more out of them."

DOWAGIAC

"When you drop two in a row like that, you've got to figure out what's going wrong and you have to fix it," Frey said. "I think that's going to be the goal tomorrow is to just sit down and say, 'hey, what's not working' and if that's personnel changes or whatever, we have to figure it out. We've got two games to figure that stuff out before the playoffs."

Davis knows there is more work to be done in order for the Chieftains to reclaim its status as a contender. The quest continues next week as the Chieftains travel to face undefeated Division 4 power Williamston next week.

"If I'm being honest, I'm not satisfied," Davis said. "We're in year five with me. I figured we'd be ahead of the game and we make too many mistakes at times. We have mental lapses and again, that's on me and I'm going to fix it. I am glad where we're going; the trajectory of the football team – I'm very happy with it. There are still things I'm disappointed in and the guys share the same idea that I share."

The Chieftains faced undefeated Williamston at Olivet University Friday night. Visit leaderpub.com for a recap of the game.

quit. "It frustrated my dad. I got beat plenty my first year. My second and third years I went to an academy run by an awesome coach who coached my brothers and my dad. I immediately jumped up in success, even though I was 9 or 10. I was winning tournaments. It was awesome.

Courtney, who already knew Dowagiac's football field is named for Olympic wrestler Chris Taylor, said her team, which practices at 6 a.m., "looked good" at their first scrimmage.

"I have high expectations. Everybody deserves someone in their life who sees their potential and has high expectations for them. For us, nationals is laid out like an open tournament," she said.
